ARE YOU RUNNING YET?

THE TIME IS NOW RIPE

Next Wednesday is the first report day and on that day you should see that your name is in the list good and strong. The Contest Manager is at this time very busy ascertaining who will start in the race. At the present there looks like plenty of room for many more in various territories. Some of them will no doubt go begging. Is your territory one of them? You should find out today if your territory is one of them. It will pay you to look the proposition over.

If you are interested phone the Contest Manager. If you have to pay toll to phone, reverse the call. Just think of it—a good territory and you will probably be the only starter in that field. Make use of it, for you may never have the same opportunity again. No doubt a few subscriptions will win one of those manuring sets, so get in your report next Wednesday and win a set. By that time you can tell whether you want to start or not. Decide and decide today. In decision lays success and an early start will be of value to you. Start today—see that your name is among the nominations this coming week. Win a manuring set on the 20th by making a good start. Send in the coupon below today. It is not too late to start, but you want to get in your nomination at once.

SEND IN THIS COUPON TODAY:

I am interested in the campaign you are going to put on. Without obligating myself in the least I should like to know more about the proposition and what I might expect to accomplish in my field.

DON'T GO TO LAW; ARBITRATE.

The time and money our farmers spend in law suits every year would probably keep every farm house in the South painted and every barn white-washed and therefore make our whole section look like a different country. Why can't our folks, when any disagreement comes up, simply say: "We'll arbitrate this; I'll pick a man, you'll pick a man, and let these two arbitrators pick a third, and then we will abide by what the three men decide is just and wise." Adopt this plan instead of the law suit plan and you will save money. You also will save time. And what is infinitely more important, you will save neighborliness and good feelings.

Here's a sort of co-operation every farmer should practice whenever occasion arises. Especially should local unions, farmers' clubs and country churches see to it that all disputes are settled in this way.—The Progressive Farmer.

GREAT WORK OF ST. CLAIR ALTAR SOCIETY

In Less Than Two Years Splendid Results Have Been Accomplished by This Organization.

In February, 1915, a few ladies of St. Joseph's congregation decided to organize an Altar Society. The pastor gave them his approval and hearty co-operation. Not quite two years have passed since the foundation of the society and as it was shown in their last meeting, their success is beyond all expectations. By faithful work the members raised during that period $908.89.

Of this sum $600 was used for the purchase of forty church pews, which have lately arrived; $200 was turned over to the house building committee, and after deducting for various other expenses, $22.50 remains in the treasury.

Yes, in unity there is strength; May St. Claire's Altar Society live, flourish and prosper.

Mrs. H. McDowell is the efficient president; Miss Ida Elliott, vice president; Miss Kate Daly, secretary, and Rev. J. B. Gleissner, treasurer.

At Wednesday's meeting it was also decided to donate $10 to the Good Cheer fund, $5 to St. Mary's Orphanage, Galveston, Texas, and $5 to St. Anthony's home for the old and homeless at Houston, Texas.

LIVING COST IS OUT OF SIGHT

Advanced From 40 to 45 Per Cent in the Past Year According to Labor Federation Head.

(By Associated Press.) Austin, Texas, Dec. 15.—The cost of living in Texas has increased between 40 and 45 per cent during the past year, with probably only a 3 per cent increase in wages, according to Edwin Campbell, president of the State Federation of Labor, who lives at Bridgeport.

Mr. Cunningham said that the average wage earner of Texas was facing a very serious situation and that many persons in the state would have a hard time during the rigorous winter months. He recently made a trip over the state and found conditions more severe in the eastern and southeastern parts.

AMUSEMENTS

At the Dixie Tonight.

It would seem to the casual observer that it was quite enough to ask of any motion picture star that she play two roles at once on the screen. Not only did Pauline Frederick accomplish this difficult feat in the Famous Players-Paramount production, "Ashes of Embers," in which she is starring at the Dixie tonight. This is what she did all at one time in her dressing room while this production was in progress: Interviewed a reporter, posed for an artist to sketch her profile, entertained a visitor, instructed her maid concerning the gowns she was to wear that day, gave her chauffeur four orders about her car and coached Maurice and Florence Walton in the art of making up for the screen preparatory to their first appearance in motion pictures in "The Quest of Life." The rest of her time was her own.

"Extravagance" at Queen Tomorrow.

Are you extravagant? Are your expenses greater than your income? If they are, what will become of you and your loved ones in the future?

All of these questions are strikingly answered in the great Metro-Play and Players production, "Extravagance," with Mme. Petrova as the star, which will be seen at the Queen Theater tomorrow.

The play deals with a father and his daughter who fetter themselves by their own extravagance. The father commits forgery. The daughter's suitor, an estimable man, is dragged into the maelstrom of financial ruin. From beginning to end the play is a powerful lesson and it is filled with dramatic situations.

Probably no other star could have thrown into the part of Norma Russell, the daughter, more realism than has Mme. Petrova, who held a high social position in England there was enabled to observe the extravagance of many titled folk. In America, too, she encountered extravagance among society people whose real wealth probably could not be reckoned in more than four figures. Yet these social spendthrifts were struggling desperately to maintain what they considered "a position of prominence" among multi-millionaires.

"Extravagance" is one of the most powerful motion picture dramas of the season. Does the lesson found in it apply to you? See it and give your own answer.

To Every Little Girl in Bryan

We are going to give 500 little girls something very lovely for their dolls. Guess what? You never could, so we shall tell you. A really, truly McCall Pattern for your doll, exactly like grown-ups use, only yours will be a dear little one. And best of all, for each of the three little girls who make the neatest, prettiest dresses with a FREE McCall Pattern there is a PRIZE—a beautiful new doll with real hair! Isn't that just lovely? The cloth you use will not matter a bit—gingham, silk, or a piece from a warm last winter dress will do. You must cut your doll's dress exactly like the McCall Doll Pattern; and we will expect you to take neat little stitches, just as though you were a big girl making a dress for yourself. Ask mother or some grown-up to come with you for the FREE McCall Doll Pattern we shall have waiting for you. Come early, won't you? The FREE McCall Patterns will be given to the first 500 little girls who call on us. Remember, if you try for a prize your doll's dress must be in our pattern department before 4 o'clock on Dec. 22.
